

The Stark Democrat

VOL. 58, NO. 31.

CANTON, OHIO, THURSDAY, DEC. 17, 1891.

$1.00 PER YEAR.

OUR NEW HOME.

The Democrat Publishing Company in Its New Building.

A Newspaper Workshop—Its Facilities For Telling the Daily Story of the World.

The Success of the "News-Democrat" the Leading Daily Paper in Eastern Ohio.

The "Stark County Democrat" the Popular Weekly Publication.

Our Job Printing Facilities—History of "The Democrat" From Its Origin, Etc.

OUR OLD HOME.

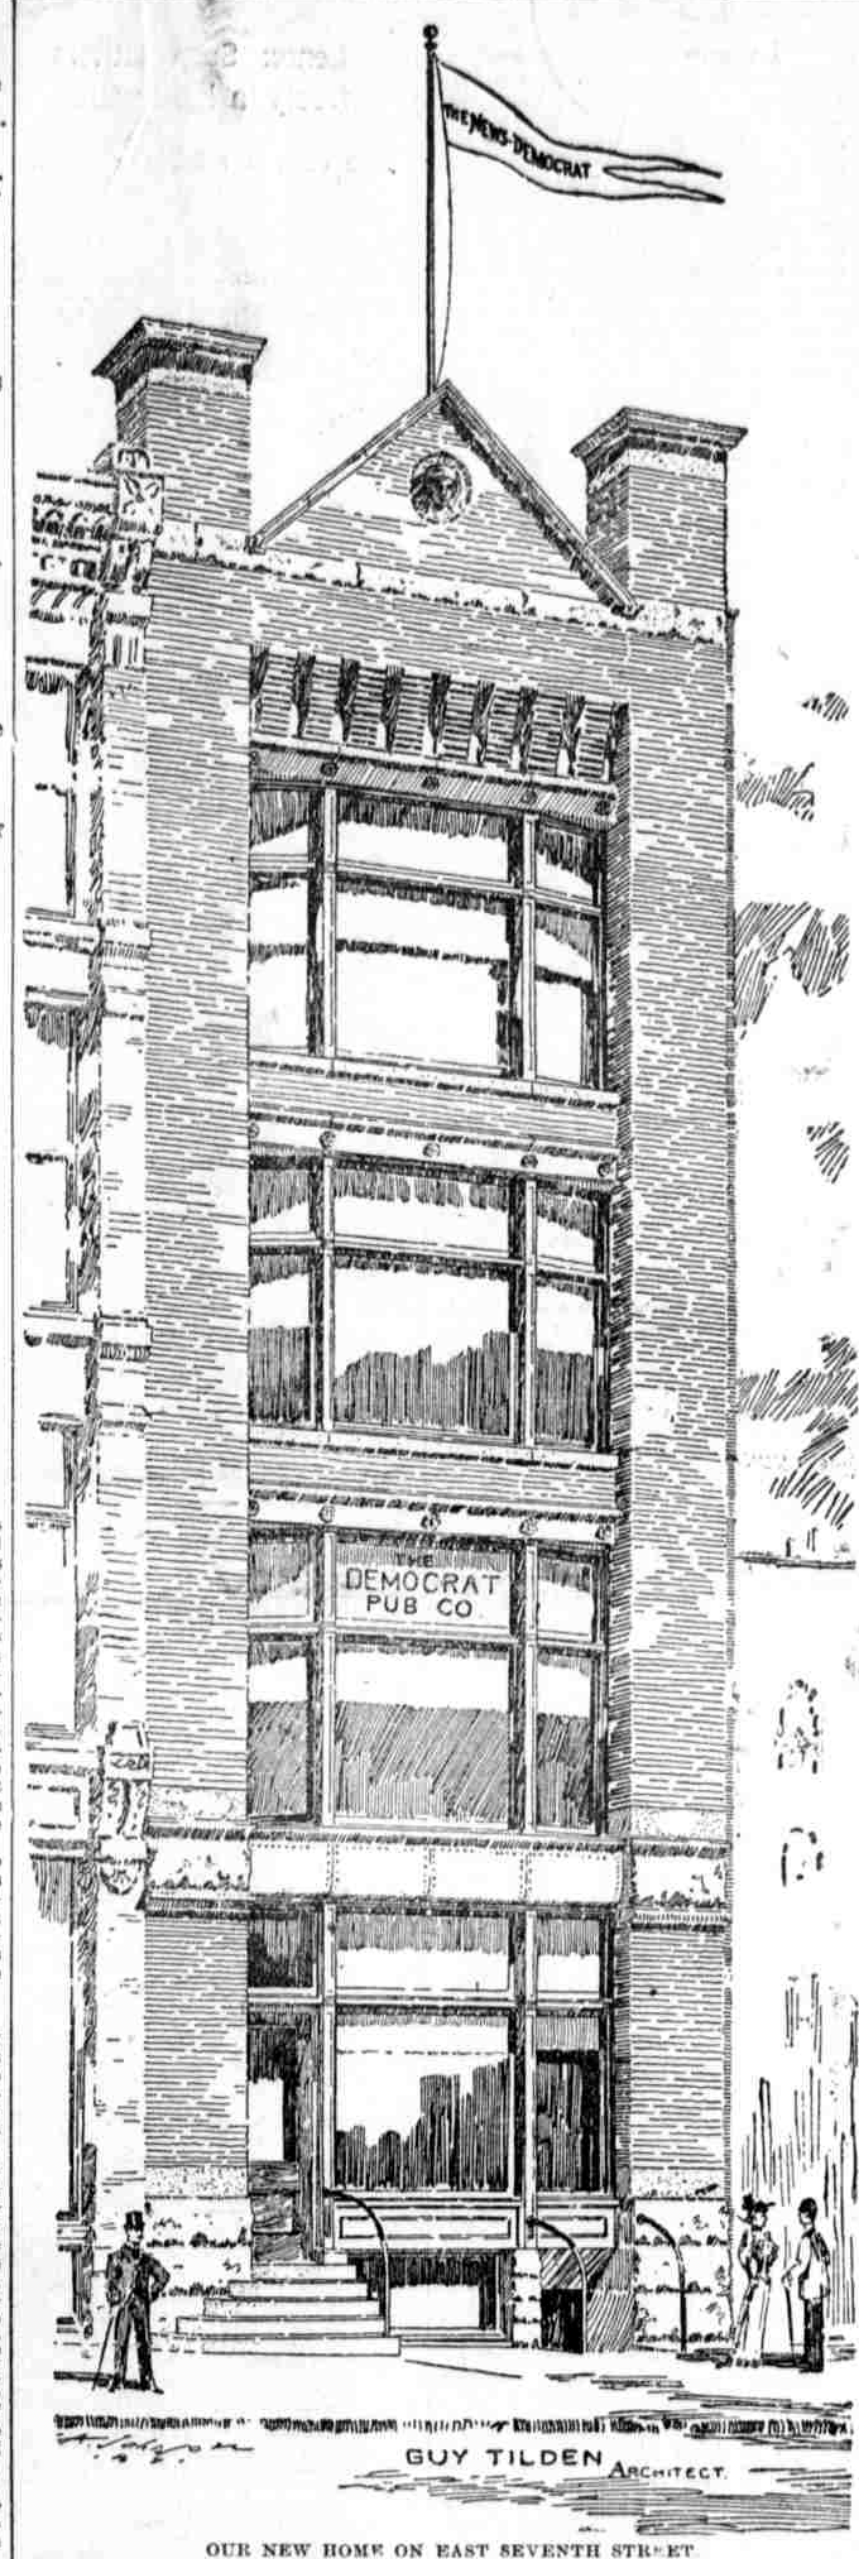

Today THE NEWS-DEMOCRAT makes its appearance from one of the best arranged and most complete newspaper buildings in the United States. It is a structure believed to be as nearly perfect as can be secured. The building, a photo-enraving of which we present in this issue, is one of the most substantial and ornate in the city of Canton. It means that we believe in Canton, and have no unbounded confidence in its future growth. The rivaled circulation of THE NEWS-DEMOCRAT and STARK COUNTY DEMOCRAT almost compelled the owners to make the improvements. For more than a year it has suffered from cramped surroundings and accommodations inadequate to the volume of its business.

The job printing department has also suffered for want of room, and many jobs had to be refused. Today THE NEWS-DEMOCRAT Publishing Company is in a position to cope properly with the mechanical demands of the immense circulation of its papers, its largest advertising patronage and the great volume of job printing.

OUR NEW HOME. Believing that a description of its new surroundings and the story of its progress will be of interest to its readers, THE NEWS-DEMOCRAT devotes today a generous space to its change of quarters. The building is four stories and a high half basement, built of iron, stone and brick. The front massive columns are built of stone and Royal chipped face brick, making one of the finest fronts in the city. The entire space between the columns is filled from basement to the roof with plate glass. The building was designed and the architect, and reflects great credit upon him. It stands as an exponent of the best form of stone construction, being almost practically a fire proof building. The ceilings are covered with handsome corrugated iron. From the pavement to the top of the great flag staff the distance is ninety-four feet. The building is heated by steam and furnished with the latest improved passenger and freight elevators. Each floor is supplied with water and other conveniences including a large ventilating shaft three feet in circumference running from the basement to the roof.

THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS. In the large and well lighted and ventilated basement is located a new four horse power tubular boiler and a handsome thirty horse power engine. The stereotyping department is also located in the basement, as is the newsboys headquarters. The first floor, fronting on East Seventh street, is located the counting room and business offices of the company. The space when the entire building was without doubt the finest office in Canton. The ceiling is made of corrugated and beaded iron, worked in panels with handsome rosettes and ornamental center pieces. The painting is very artistic, five shades being used. The floor is made of granite, and is polished. Here are located two large newspaper presses, from which are turned out daily three thousand copies of THE NEWS-DEMOCRAT, the most widely read newspaper in the richest agricultural county in Ohio. The presses, folding machines and paper cutters are also on this floor.

The second floor 22,835 feet is devoted exclusively to the job printing department. Here are hundreds of well filled cases of the latest style type, borders, rules and every thing thing that can be printed. The plan press is also on this floor. The third floor is occupied by the managing editor, city editor and reporters, two rooms being devoted to this, the all important department. The composing room is 22,835 feet and is one of the best arranged in the country. It is connected by doors with the editorial rooms and by elevator with the press room. On the fourth floor is the stock room, book folding department and engraving department.

OUR NEW HOME ON EAST SEVENTH STREET

leaves the press room of THE DEMOCRAT Publishing Co. This edition goes out on all the railroads entering Canton. Seven trains daily carry out this edition. This is a very valuable and important item to advertisers, as it is the only paper published in Stark county that reaches all these cities and towns the day of publication. The second edition of the paper goes to press at from 4 to 5 o'clock p. m. and is supplied to Canton subscribers by a little army of about forty newsboys. Fifty boys sell the paper on the street. The second edition goes to Massillon and other cities, where our own carriers deliver it to subscribers, and newsboys sell it on the streets.

Every business man is the farmer of his own fortune, and the harvest he reaps is entirely due to his own perseverance and industry. If properly sown, there is not one seed that promises him better returns than liberal advertising; but it requires careful cultivation for the field is a large one, and there are many dry and barren spots that must be avoided. You must place your advertising in mediums that reach the purchasing public, such mediums are THE NEWS-DEMOCRAT and THE STARK COUNTY DEMOCRAT. Prepare bright, original advertisements suitable for your business, and place them in these publications, and you are sure to reap a good harvest.

OUR EARLY HISTORY. We are indebted to Dr. Slusser, City Historian from way back, for the following early history of the STARK COUNTY DEMOCRAT (Weekly): It was during the administration of General Jackson and the political throes of that period, that the STARK COUNTY DEMOCRAT was born. The county leaders of the Democracy of that day, sensible of the fact that they labored under a disadvantage in not having an organ, determined to overcome that disadvantage and have a press. Among the most active and liberal in furnishing material aid for that purpose were D. A. Starkweather, Dr. Slidger, the Danbars, Judge Loutzenbecker, Sanders Van Rensselaer, Arnold Lynch and Judge Greenwood, of Paris, Judge Miller and McCully of Massillon. A press and type were procured. Henry Bernad, a practical printer with considerable reputation as a political writer, then engaged in an office in Massillon, was hired to take charge of the paper. A room was obtained on the second floor immediately over the room now occupied by J. A. Ischman on Thursday, Dec. 17, 1847. Here, in the autumn of 1847, over 57 years ago, was the first number of the paper issued. That year the Asiatic cholera made its first appearance west of the mountains. Bernard was a free drinker, a good subject for the cholera, and the first to be taken off. His remains were interred in the street grave yard, with nothing to mark their resting place. Bernard was a caustic writer, and I well remember, frequently seeing him set up editorials without copy. As his death, William Dunbar, who at the time, had a school in the old Academy, took charge of the paper. He was assisted by Abijah Baker, a ubiquitous type of the tramp order who had a reputation as a sharp writer. Charles Burr was the first Devil connected with the office, and he had a penchant for writing for the paper. Newspaper controversies at that time, constituted the life of the office. In the fall of that year, the office was removed to a frame building on Walnut street belonging to Judge Sowers, formerly occupied as a carpenter shop. In the spring of 1853, this building took fire and was destroyed with all its contents. In the summer following, the office was reconstructed by Dunbar & Gotshall, and occupied a room on Tuscarawas street, over Houser's meat market. They were the proprietors until 1857, when the office was sold to Lester & Carney, who ran it for a year or more and sold out to John McGregor & Son. McGregor, Sr., died within a year or so, when the son, Archibald, became the manager.

In 1861, the office was in an upper room of county building now occupying the court house square. Our civil war stirred up a feeling against many Democrats, who favored compromise measures, and as the Democrat was their mouth of expression, the editor was charged with giving aid and comfort to the South. When a mob spirit is abroad, it takes but little encouragement to fan the flames into an outbreak. A crowd of thoughtless men and boys broke into the office in the night, destroyed the press and committed various acts of type into the street. Not a man or boy engaged in that work, but afterward repented his action. The office was soon reconstructed and established in the building it occupied until the last removal. The News-Democrat was established March 21, 1862. The function of the rural press has been much enlarged of late years. The telegraph has been a means of contributing to this end—communicating transactions of every kind and from any distance immediately after they occur. Reports are a modern necessity in picking up local news and when hard up for material, manufacturing it to order. They now make a wonderful cock and bull story out of an affair that could be told in a paragraph. The particulars of Bachel's execution occupied less than a column. The account of the execution of the two men who were hanged in the jail, and the execution of Lewis Brown and his wife in the jail, was given in a paragraph. There was not that morbid taste in writing about a crime since we were created, but the public are not satisfied with mere statements. They want it more fully and according to the law of supply and demand they will have it. The secular newspaper that does not furnish it is liable to fail.

Mr. A. G. Green, who owned the STARK COUNTY DEMOCRAT from 1847 to the June of 1888, a period of 41 years and made it a power in State politics, and a reputation as one of the ablest Democratic journals in Ohio. On the 14th of May, 1888, the paper was purchased by the DEMOCRAT PUBLISHING CO.

ed on the second floor immediately over the room now occupied by J. A. Ischman on Thursday, Dec. 17, 1847. Here, in the autumn of 1847, over 57 years ago, was the first number of the paper issued. That year the Asiatic cholera made its first appearance west of the mountains. Bernard was a free drinker, a good subject for the cholera, and the first to be taken off. His remains were interred in the street grave yard, with nothing to mark their resting place. Bernard was a caustic writer, and I well remember, frequently seeing him set up editorials without copy. As his death, William Dunbar, who at the time, had a school in the old Academy, took charge of the paper. He was assisted by Abijah Baker, a ubiquitous type of the tramp order who had a reputation as a sharp writer. Charles Burr was the first Devil connected with the office, and he had a penchant for writing for the paper. Newspaper controversies at that time, constituted the life of the office. In the fall of that year, the office was removed to a frame building on Walnut street belonging to Judge Sowers, formerly occupied as a carpenter shop. In the spring of 1853, this building took fire and was destroyed with all its contents. In the summer following, the office was reconstructed by Dunbar & Gotshall, and occupied a room on Tuscarawas street, over Houser's meat market. They were the proprietors until 1857, when the office was sold to Lester & Carney, who ran it for a year or more and sold out to John McGregor & Son. McGregor, Sr., died within a year or so, when the son, Archibald, became the manager.

In 1861, the office was in an upper room of county building now occupying the court house square. Our civil war stirred up a feeling against many Democrats, who favored compromise measures, and as the Democrat was their mouth of expression, the editor was charged with giving aid and comfort to the South. When a mob spirit is abroad, it takes but little encouragement to fan the flames into an outbreak. A crowd of thoughtless men and boys broke into the office in the night, destroyed the press and committed various acts of type into the street. Not a man or boy engaged in that work, but afterward repented his action. The office was soon reconstructed and established in the building it occupied until the last removal. The News-Democrat was established March 21, 1862. The function of the rural press has been much enlarged of late years. The telegraph has been a means of contributing to this end—communicating transactions of every kind and from any distance immediately after they occur. Reports are a modern necessity in picking up local news and when hard up for material, manufacturing it to order. They now make a wonderful cock and bull story out of an affair that could be told in a paragraph. The particulars of Bachel's execution occupied less than a column. The account of the execution of the two men who were hanged in the jail, and the execution of Lewis Brown and his wife in the jail, was given in a paragraph. There was not that morbid taste in writing about a crime since we were created, but the public are not satisfied with mere statements. They want it more fully and according to the law of supply and demand they will have it. The secular newspaper that does not furnish it is liable to fail.

Mr. A. G. Green, who owned the STARK COUNTY DEMOCRAT from 1847 to the June of 1888, a period of 41 years and made it a power in State politics, and a reputation as one of the ablest Democratic journals in Ohio. On the 14th of May, 1888, the paper was purchased by the DEMOCRAT PUBLISHING CO.

DIPHTHERIA AND INFLUENZA.

The Maladies Raging in Pennsylvania and Delaware Towns.

LANCASTER, Pa., Dec. 16.—Diphtheria appears to be on the increase in the various sections of the county and many deaths have been reported during the past week from that cause. All the victims being children. A greatly afflicted family is that of Farmer David C. Keady. On Sunday there was a double funeral, two of his children being buried in the same grave. The return of the stricken parents to their home a third child was dead, and two other children are down with this terrible disease and are expected to die. Some years ago the physicians were worried by the disease, while many others are seriously ill with the prevailing disease. Mayor Wiley is also on the sick list.

Physicians Unabated Cope With It. WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 16.—There has not been for many years a time when there were more cases of sickness in this city than there is now. The prevailing influenza has scores of victims, and diphtheria and pneumonia are also doing their work. Many aged persons are dying. It is almost impossible to secure nurses for private families, the demand being greater than the supply. The physicians are working overtime, while many others are seriously ill with the prevailing disease. Mayor Wiley is also on the sick list.

Pennsylvania Towns Suffer Sadly. WEST CHESTER, Dec. 16.—Five hundred people in West Chester are ill with the grip, many of them seriously. In Kennett Square, there are 50 ill with the grip, and in Pottsville, 100. In Phoenixville, 200; in Coatesville, 150; and in small Chester county towns the physicians have more than their hands full. The disease is particularly prevalent in the country districts. The people are probably as many cases now as there were two years ago, when the disease took the form of an epidemic.

An Inhuman Parent. TOPEKA, Kan., Dec. 16.—The people of Weir City and Cherokee county are amazed at the inhuman acts of Thomas Seidler, a Bohemian farmer. Last Thursday, while his daughter was dying, he would not allow a clergyman, who wished to see her, to enter the house. The following Saturday one of the boys was sick, but Seidler refused any assistance from the doctor or neighbors and shut them out, declaring he would kill any man who attempted to enter the house. The next day the boy died and the neighbors instituted an investigation and found that Seidler had been giving his children a solution of alum with other poisonous drugs. A third child is reported dying and another very sick. Seidler was arrested yesterday and held to await the coroner's inquest. He does not act like a crazy man, but if he is not a lunatic he is one of the most cold-blooded and heartless of parents.

My daughter says your Swamp-Root has done her more good than all the medicine she has ever taken. She has taken hundreds of dollars worth. It has cured me of kidney and urinary difficulties. JONATHAN NORRIS, Wolf, Ohio.

Large and Small Cures, Presented with Boys' suits and overcoats. This week. Union Clothing Manufacturing Company, 38 and 40 North Market street.

RATHER BRIEF SESSION.

THE PRESIDENT SENDS RECESS APPOINTMENTS TO THE SENATE.

Speaker Crisp in No Hurry About Making Appointments to the Big Committee. An Ohio Congressman Will Assist the Tariff Bill—Political Gossip.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The senate, in its brief session yesterday, added 214 to the list of bills introduced, making the total for two days 827. Among them were bills to erect monuments to General U. S. Grant and Mary Washington; to organize the much discussed permanent census bureau; to repeal the law prohibiting ex-Confederates from entering the army and navy of the United States, and a number of important merchant marine and shipping bills, presented by Mr. Frye, of Maine, from the committee on commerce. Proposed increased pension legislation received several amendments, including a bill positioning all soldiers who fought in Indian wars. Two additional bills were added to the already long list of Chinese restriction measures.

The senate, in its second session, referred a number of recess appointments received from the president to the appropriate committees. The list includes 281 postmasters and a large number of army and navy appointments. At the request of Senator Allen, of Washington, the nomination of Andrew Wasson as collector of customs at Puget Sound was confirmed.

Important Measures for the House. WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—When the house is in a condition to proceed to business, Representative Bryan, of Nebraska, will propose a constitutional amendment that will, if adopted, permit any state so desiring to elect its United States senators by the vote of the people. Another measure he has in view is intended to correct an evil that he says exists to a great extent in the northwest. He proposes to compel the sale of all property under United States court processes in the county where the property is sold, and causing the advertising of the same to be likewise made in the county. It frequently happens, says Mr. Bryan, that property is advertised and sold many hundred miles distant from where it is located. Another measure he proposes to push to passage, if he can, is one providing that after a certain amount has been realized the inventor of a patented article shall cease to be protected.

The Tariff Problem. WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Representative Miller, of Wisconsin, a Democratic member of the house, thinks it would be waste of time to attempt anything in the direction of a general revision of the tariff bill. "With the president and the senate against us," said Mr. Miller, in an interview, "it would be impossible to accomplish anything. We may effect a reduction by piecemeal, but beyond that it will only be throwing time away. My own idea is that we had better get through with our regular business and go home."

A Loan to the Fair.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Members of congress from Illinois are much interested in the World's Fair, and on account of the action of the board of control in deciding to ask for an appropriation of $5,000,000 instead of a loan of that amount, as at first contemplated. Mr. Springer, in speaking of the probable treatment of the fair by congress, said: "I do not think there is any good reason to expect this congress to make an appropriation of the amount specified for this congress will be quite chary in its expenditures."

Interested in the Cotton Growing States.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Commissioner Lane, of the department of agriculture, has issued a circular to every state agricultural commissioner in the cotton growing states for the purpose of calling a convention of the farmers for the purpose of considering the expediency of the cotton growing states in the south, with the importance of which he declares himself to be impressed. He names the city of Montgomery, Ala., as the most suitable place, and Jan. 6, 1892, as the time of the meeting.

Speaker Crisp's Task.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Speaker Crisp has not yet announced the committee on rules, which he must do before congress adjourns for the holiday recess, if he would have the full list of committees ready to submit to the house upon its reassembling in January. The impression still prevails generally that Messrs. Springer and McMillin will be the Democratic associates of the speaker that committee, but no official sanction has been given to it yet.

Will Attack the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Congressman Dunagan, of Ohio, proposes to begin an attack on the tariff bill at the earliest possible moment. The McKinley bill admits free all books intended for the use of college libraries. He thinks it was simply an oversight that prevented this privilege being extended to books intended for public libraries generally, and he will introduce a bill to that effect.

Completed Its Work.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The Republican senatorial caucus committee which was charged with the arrangement of the Republican representation on the senate committee, completed its work and reported to a caucus which was called together before the senate met. The caucus considered the list of names and adjourned to meet without action on the report.

Found a Nickel Mine.

OTTAWA, Dec. 15.—Nickel bearing ore has been found in great abundance on the farm of G. S. MacFarlane, nineteen miles from this city. Samples analyzed Saturday proved it to be as rich as the best deposits of the Sudbury district. The discovery will cause a great rush of prospectors and speculators to the locality.

No Passes for Legislators.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 15.—The house of representatives has passed the anti-free pass bill, which had previously been passed by the senate. It prohibits the receiving or using of free passes on railroads of any member of the senate, house, or any state officer, or judge of any court of record in the state.

SALOONS IN FULL BLAST.

Alliance Has a Local Prohibition Ordinance, but it is Rendered Inoperative.

ALLIANCE, O., Dec. 15.—Prominent citizens are drumming up sentiment against the liquor traffic here. This is a local option city, and yet conservative estimates say that there are nearly 100 saloons here running wide open, and the taxation clause of the Dow law is inoperative here it being a local option city. This state of affairs has been brought about by a recent decision of the circuit court. The mayor had fined a saloon keeper $500 for violation of the law. He appealed the case to common pleas court and it upheld the mayor. The case was carried to the circuit court, holding the fine to be excessive, and the local prohibitory ordinance illegal. The city carried the case to the supreme court, and it is now pending there. The city expects to win here. In the meanwhile any person who wanted to start a saloon got out a United States license and began business.

SHE FOOLED HIM.

Mr. Hubbard Thought He Was Marrying a Doctor's Daughter.

MERIDEN, Conn., Dec. 15.—Fred Hubbard, an employee of a street railway company, met a young servant in Dr. Doherty's family last summer. He thought she was a daughter of the doctor, and the girl fostered his delusion. He proposed marriage, and they were wedded at Chicopee last August. Two weeks ago Hubbard discovered the trick which had been played upon him. His wife confessed, and informed him that her maiden name was Agnes Horan, and that her friends lived in New Haven. They quarreled and Mrs. Hubbard went to her New Haven home. Since then the wife has sneaked Hubbard for non-support, and caused his arrest. The case will come up in the police court next Wednesday. Mrs. Hubbard justifies her deception on the ground that she "liked Hubbard and wanted him."

World's Fair Workers.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 15.—A large meeting of business men and others interested in Maryland's exhibit at the World's Fair was held at the city hall last night. Committees of the various commercial organizations of the city strongly urged a good display at the World's Fair. It was finally decided to request the state legislature to appropriate $100,000. A proposition to increase an appropriation of the city was voted down. The interests of Maryland in the fair were placed in charge of a state board of promotion, to consist of fifty persons, who will be appointed by Mayor Latrobe.

Murderer Fitzgerald Attempts Suicide.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 15.—W. E. Fitzgerald, who is to be hanged Friday morning of this week, attempted to commit suicide last night, in the annex at the penitentiary, but the fact was not made public until this morning. Fitzgerald, in some mysterious manner, got hold of some morphine and took an overdose. The prison physicians worked all night with Fitzgerald, and it is thought he will recover.

Actor Curtis' Trial Postponed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—Actor M. B. Curtis' trial for killing Policeman Grant has been set for Jan. 11 next. The case was called for trial yesterday, but Curtis' lawyer pleaded for delay because of want of funds for preparation. Curtis has fought for delay from the outset, as he believes public prejudice will fade as time goes on. Curtis was handsomely dressed, and prison life evidently does not worry him.

What It Means.

OMAHA, Dec. 15.—Hon. J. B. Woodruff, of Wyoming, is here en route to Springfield, Mo., to oppose the proposed treaty with Shoshone and Arapaho Indians. Woodruff was chairman of the commission appointed by the last congress and alleges that the treaty granted by the present congress the spending of $300,000 for worthless land.

Winter Wheat in Peril.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 15.—Reports from fifty points in all parts of Minnesota and South Dakota say that a heavy rain is falling. The snow has entirely disappeared and the farmers in Southern Minnesota express the fear that a sudden cold snap would freeze out all their winter wheat.

Five Hundred Christians Massacred.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 15.—The congregation of Mongolian missions at Schent have received news confirming the report that 500 native Christians have been massacred in the Paton district, and that all the Europeans there escaped.

Weather Forecast.

For Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia: Threatening weather and rain; southerly winds, shifting to westerly during the night; colder Wednesday morning, with a moderately cold wave in Illinois by Wednesday morning.

WIRE WAIFS.

Ex-Representative Daniel McLaughlin, of Cambria county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dr. Madden, in Harrisburg. Mrs. McLaughlin was 72 years of age. She was married to Daniel McLaughlin, who was a member of the Pennsylvania legislature.

James Wright, a Noted Murderer and Outlaw, with two other desperate characters, overpowered the father, at Snodgrassville, in Hancock county, Tenn., and escaped.

While digging a trench in a burning pile at Wilkesbarre, Andrew Pohl was suffocated by the deadly fumes and died before he could be carried away. Another workman was also overcome and is in a critical condition.

The grip has broken out in epidemic form in Philadelphia. Its ravages are widespread, affecting every quarter of the city, and the physicians report that the number of cases fully equal the number at any time during the outbreak of last year.

At Camakusa, Ga., a strange negro was discovered trying to enter the store of Pitchens & Gosseling. He was taken by a crowd of men to a copse, and shots were heard. A noise was found dangling to a tree, but there was no trace of the negro's body.

YOUNG FIELD ARRESTED

TAKEN FROM A PRIVATE ASYLUM CHARGED WITH GRAND LARCENY.

His Keeper at First Refused to Give Him Up, but Finally Yielded—Field's Insanity Had Proven—None of His Family Visit Him.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Edward M. Field, of the firm of Field, Lindley, Weichers & Co., was arrested by Inspector Byrnes' men at the Manchester mansion, a private insane asylum near Truckee, N. Y. He is now locked up in the city. The arrest was made on a warrant issued by Judge Martine and the charge is grand larceny in the first degree. Although members of the Field family were notified of the arrest of Edward M. Field, none of them had visited the prisoner at headquarters. When the detectives reached the sanatorium and stated their errand, Dr. Granger at first refused to turn Field over to the officers. He was quickly told that force would be resorted to to secure the prisoner, if other means failed, and thereupon submitted and brought out Mr. Field. Young Field will be arraigned before Judge Martine to answer the charge against him.

The District Attorney Talks.

The district attorney was seen and said: "In view of the repeated charges made in the newspapers I deemed it my duty, without waiting for a complaint to be made by some of the persons who have been defamed, to take action in the matter. Such transactions as the Field failure cannot take place without a scrutiny by the authorities, even if, as in this case, no formal charge is submitted by interested parties. Mr. Field may be insane. If he is, it must be proved as a defense to the indictment in the usual way. Assigned Gould, Howard Gallup and William Canfield have been summoned as witnesses.

The district attorney has information which leads him to believe that Field has disposed of his shares of Union Pacific stock and converted the proceeds to his own use.

THIRTY LIVES LOST.

The British Ship Entertaken Wrecked During the Storm.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—Reports from various points in South Wales state that the gale has been especially severe in that part of the country. The wind storm was accompanied by heavy rain, and the result has been that some of the rivers have overflowed their banks, doing much damage. The list of casualties caused by the storm is constantly gaining fresh accessions. The greatest number of injuries in the country districts have been caused by falling trees. Quite a number of accidents have also been caused by the wreckage of roofs and chimneys, falling bricks, tiles, etc. The most serious of all the disasters that have occurred during the present storm is the wreck of the British ship Entertaken, Captain Sinclair, which was bound from Hull for Bristol. She was caught by the storm while bound down the Channel, and, despite every effort made to save her, she was driven upon the Galloper sands, off the port of Ramsgate, County of Kent. Thirty lives were lost in the disaster, every person except an apprentice boy being drowned.

Big Blaze in a Mining Town.

ASHLAND, Pa., Dec. 15.—Last evening fire broke out in a frame dwelling at Centralia, a mining town, one mile from here, and before it was extinguished it had destroyed eight buildings. The fire was caused by a gas explosion. The loss is estimated at $13,000.

Apologies at Wooster College.

WOOSTER, O., Dec. 15.—All but thirty-five of the students of the college here have apologized for the Thanksgiving trouble. Eighteen of these refuse point blank to apologize, and the other seven have not been asked to do so. One student has been expelled.

A Pair of Friends.

BERLIN, Dec. 15.—The Madgeburg police have arrested a man and his wife who have been in the habit of advertising for female companions and then murdering and robbing the applicants after deceiving them to lonely spots.

Races at Guttenburg.

GUTTENBURG, N. J., Dec. 15.—First race, three-quarters of a mile—Fleetfoot 1, All-quips 2, Sir Iac 3, Time, 1:19. Second race, five-eighths of a mile—Noon-day 1, Zenobia 2, Carefree 3, Time, 1:04. Third race, six and one-half furlongs—Spartan 1, Zozo 2, Sir George 3, Time, 1:24. Fourth race, one and one-half miles—Pelham 1, Casselara 3, Time, 1:54. Fifth race, five and one-half furlongs—Faux Pas 1, Knapsack 2, McKee 3, Time, 1:30. Sixth race, seven-eighths of a mile—Climax 1, Sparling 2, Estelle 3, Time, 1:19.

A Lively Battle at Frisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—Alex Greig, of San Francisco, and George LaBlanche, of Baltimore, fought last night with four-ounce gloves for a prize of $2,000. The police stopped the fight in the eighteenth round and Referee Danny Neidham gave the fight to Greig. He was badly lacerated, the crowd believing that honors were even. The battle was the liveliest seen in years.

Jake Kilrain's Lost Ambition.

BOSTON, Dec. 15.—Jake Kilrain, in a letter from Baltimore, has refused a proposition to meet the winner of the Woods-Choyensky fight, which soon takes place in San Francisco. Jake says his business takes up all his time and he does not believe that he will ever don the mittens again.

Brewer Wants Another Try.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Captain Brewer has challenged D. F. Fulford to another match at 250 pounds for $5,000 a side. Brewer is a man who never acknowledges defeat. He is detested by many sportsmen for his actions.

Is Circulated Daily by Carriers in the Above Cities and Towns.